San Jose, CA (PressExposure) September 30, 2008 -- eFunding, Inc. announced today that its Chief Investment Advisor has launched a new commercial real estate investments blog on its www.efundingcom.com website. The blog will feature a daily list of 5 to 10 best commercial properties in the US. These properties are selected daily among 200-300 retail and office building properties between $700K to $15M listed for sale in all 50 states. They are chosen based on about 20 criteria: prices, cap rate, location, tenants, demographics, region, upside potential, and more. The list is intended to help busy investors focusing on intelligent data instead of raw data from the MLS's. "We believe this is a smarter way for investors to use their time." Maria Martinez, eFunding spokesperson said.
